

SARI MEMBERS TOUR DONLEY REHABILITATION CENTER

The January 15 tour of the Donley Rehabilitation Center in Providence provided attendees with the opportunity to view a facility dedicated to providing individualized treatment programs for employees of Rhode Island companies who have a work-related injury.

At the center, clients are provided an initial evaluation and a review of medical issues and details of the work injury.

Work simulation activities at the center reproduce the physical demands of any job. Supervised work therapy allows the progressive and safe restoration of strength, endurance, and confidence necessary for a successful return to work.

This is an abridged version of the complete meeting notes that are provided to members in our bi-monthly newsletter.